This case study highlights how SpectrumBPO transformed the online presence of a mid-sized home décor brand, showing the power of combining expertise, strategy, and execution.

The Challenge

The home décor brand, though well-established offline, struggled to find its footing in the digital marketplace. Despite having quality products, the brand faced:

- Poorly optimized product listings
- Inconsistent account health on Amazon
- Difficulty managing advertising campaigns effectively
- A lack of cohesive strategy for long-term growth

The management team wanted not just more sales but also stability and a clear roadmap for future expansion.

The Solution with SpectrumBPO

The brand partnered with SpectrumBPO – Ecommerce Growth Agency in Richardson to take control of its eCommerce journey. SpectrumBPO's experts started by conducting a deep audit of the brand's accounts, analyzing listing performance, keyword relevance, and advertising ROI.

The approach included:

- Listing Optimization: Detailed keyword research, improved titles, bullet points, and descriptions aligned with customer intent.
- Advertising Strategy: Implementing data-driven campaigns with continuous A/B testing to reduce ACOS while increasing visibility.

- Account Health Management: Ensuring compliance, resolving account-level issues, and creating a sustainable structure for long-term growth.
- Creative Enhancements: High-quality images, A+ content, and brand store setup to improve conversion rates.

Results Achieved

Within six months, the transformation was evident:

- Sales Growth: The brand recorded a 65% increase in monthly revenue.
- Advertising Efficiency: ACOS dropped by 22% while impressions grew significantly.
- Account Stability: No suspension threats or compliance issues during the partnership.
- Customer Engagement: Improved conversion rates with optimized listings and enhanced content.
